Dear Dr. Henney:

I am writing this letter in hopes that you can get the FDA to ban human antibiotics in animal feeds. The overuse of antibiotics is a serious concern of mine.

My father, an Illinois farmer, questioned the wisdom of the over-use of both antibiotics and chemicals in farming long before it really became a concern. I now see that he was ahead of his time!

Please do what is necessary before antibiotic-resistant infections begin to seriously threaten our health in this country.

Sincerely,

Elaine Renick
